Hailey City Thanks Park Adopters Benefactors Maintain 35% of Hailey's Parks

(Hailey, Idaho) – Approximately 35% of the City's 40 acres of park space is cared for through Hailey's Park Adoption program. Through this program, local businesses and/or volunteers choose to perform services within the park at no cost to the city except our gratitude.

Four local businesses adopted Hailey parks in 2020, Clearwater Landscaping, G&G Landscaping, Sun Valley Services, and Webb Landscaping. Two of these businesses, Webb and Clearwater, have been adopters of Hop Porter and Keefer Park, respectively, since the Adopt a Park Program was founded in 2012. In 2015, G&G Landscaping adopted Balmoral Park and Sun Valley Services began caring for Jimmy's Garden, with continual service thereafter. The condition of the parks adopted by all these companies shows the quality of their work.

Hailey's adoption program involves two categories of service. Our largest parks fall into the Gold Leaf adoption category. Webb Landscaping's equipment can be seen in Hop Porter Park every week, mowing, applies fertilizer twice per year and blowing out the irrigation system at the end of each season. Clearwater Landscaping takes care of Keefer Park, applying its irrigation system expertise to fine-tuning the irrigation of the Keefer (now Lars Hovey) ball fields.

City Council member Heidi Husbands put personal effort into the park adoption program for 2021, securing commitments from volunteers and businesses to maintain the E.W. Fox Demonstration Garden, a small park on Fox Acres Road which showcases native plants.

There are many Hailey parks still available for adoption, as shown below. Interested groups or businesses should call the Hailey Public Works Department for more information and to sign up.
