Historic Martyn Mallory Photograph Collection to be Presented

(Hailey, Idaho) – The Hailey Public Library, Hailey Historic Preservation Commission (HHPC) and the Friends of the Hailey Public Library will present a selection of the Martyn Mallory Photograph collection, with Rose Mallory providing commentary. The presentation will be held at Hailey City Hall in Council Chambers at 6:30 PM on Thursday, April 29th, 2010.

The Library, with the help of the Friends and the HHPC, received a grant which enabled it to scan over 1600 glass, nitrate and safety film negatives, which were uploaded to a website. In addition, two sets of DVD's and 29 albums of 8x10 prints from negatives were created for archival storage. A team of volunteers, with Rose Mallory's assistance, have been cataloging the negatives to make the website searchable.

Going forward, the volunteers have the daunting task of matching the 1600 negatives to 2000 prints included in the collection. Those prints not matched to negatives will be scanned into the collection. The final goal is to have the entire collection available for viewing on the Hailey Public Library's website.

Beginning the week of April 18th a slide show of selected prints will be showing in the library.
