For immediate release

The Hailey Arts Commission invites all local artists and representatives of arts organizations to an informal continental breakfast and discussion on Thursday, October 11, 2012 at the Community Campus from 8AM to 9:30 AM.

Commissioners will be on hand to lead discussions about current activities and plans of the commission and to ask the important question, "What support do you need from this commission to do what you do so well to serve our community?" The Hailey Arts Commission has recently adopted a long range plan, "The Five by Five Plan" which places the expanded incorporation of public art in our community as the centerpiece of the commission's work. One of the components of that work is to find new ways to engage with our community of artists who make our town a more vibrant place to live and visit.

"We want to make sure that we have accurate contact information for as many artists and arts organizations in our community as possible so that we can easily and successfully communicate with this dynamic group," says Hailey Arts Commission Chair, R.L. Rowsey. What better way to expand this connection than to gather for a light breakfast and chat. Please feel free to invite other local artists to join you for this casual meeting on October 11.

For more information about this event, please contact R.L. Rowsey at 208.720.7909 or email the commission at haileyartscommission@hotmail.com.
