Call to Order

3:30pm Johnson called the meeting to order.

New Business

Staff and Commissioner Research (documents may be brought to hearing):

1) Collaboration Projects: Mural Wall with Sage School -- Action Item

Julie Zimmerman introduced self and brought forth the idea of collaborating with the HAHPC on a mural in the fall 2022. Zimmerman noted that the Sage School students will focus on society, student relationships with each other, social justice, social environment, and community in the upcoming school year. Zimmerman noted that the mural would be a reflection of their understanding and its relation to our community.

Johnson questioned whether there is a wall available for this type of mural. Johnson further suggested a mural on the new Town Center West Building. Davis will supply available wall options again for the group to review. Johnson inquired about procuring materials. Zimmerman noted that the Sage School can contribute here. Davis questioned whether design ideas could be vetted by HAHPC (and any private building owner) prior to installation. Zimmerman agreed and would disseminate the design ideas prior to installation. Zimmerman also noted that the design would be complete and approved by Thanksgiving Break. More information to come.

2) Updates on 2022 Priority Projects (if any):

- a. Phone Booth Revitalization: Discuss of Estimates, Scope of Work and Process
- b. Utility Box Information and Costs
- c. Plaques for Existing Art
- d. Window Art

Rowland provided update on Impact Auto Estimate in Bellevue (formal bid $1861.98). The estimate is for refurbishing of both booths. Owner would waive all transportation costs to get booths to shop. Johnson inquired on timeline and how long Impact Auto would have the booths. Rowland wasn't sure; however, they could begin work on August 8, 2022.

Johnson went on to share that Windy City provided an estimate on art panels = 12 panels @ $786 total. Discussion ensued.

3:56pm Rowland motioned to accept the estimate from Impact Auto and move forward with refurbishing the phone booths. Whittington seconded and all were in favor.

Romero went on to discuss the utility boxes and suggested that the Board consider partnering with local organizations to design the wrap. Romero suggested that the task be a collective effort, which could showcase local talent and collaboration with local organizations. Board agreed. Davis will follow up with Ketchum regarding utility boxes, wrapping and permissions.

4:01pm Johnson provided an update on the possible landscaping bed for Cubic Symphony at the corner of Pine Street Station. Johnson noted that Brian Yeager and crew could potentially remove concrete in the fall, and flowers, compost and other ground covers, including irrigation, could be installed early spring 2023.

Johnson went on to share information regarding the art plaques. Johnson noted that a Brass 5x7 plaque would cost approximately $210 per plaque; a stainless steel plaque could cost approximately $180 per plaque. Johnson noted that these could be paid for out of maintenance budget. Davis to confirm and bring back at next meeting.

- 3) Updates on Town Square West Building + Project
- 4) Relocation of Kaleidoscope and/or Timeless Portal

Discussion of the relocation of the kaleidoscope continued. Board would like to see the kaleidoscope at the new Town Center West building. Davis will follow up and report back to the Commission on the feasibility of this. The Commission also discussed the relocation of Timeless Portal. The Board would like it moved to the pad where the kaleidoscope sits. Whittington noted that she spoke with artist and artist recommended tipping the piece onto a cart, moving it and tipping it back up. Whittington will follow up with artist regarding relocation.

Davis discussed the possible window art project with the Board. Davis noted that not all parties are amenable to covering the windows and suggested that the Board choose a different project to work on. Board agreed.

The Board went on to discuss the Town Square West Building and project. Davis suggested that the Commission consider painting a fun crosswalk across the alley – from the library to the building. Board willing to entertain idea. Davis to follow up with Public Works regarding the crosswalk idea and paint.
