Hailey City Council Amends Hailey's Health Order

Group Size Limits Removed Along With Easing of Mask Requirements

(Hailey, Idaho) – Hailey Mayor Martha Burke stressed the importance of personal responsibility in leading a discussion with the Hailey City Council about easing health order terms which have been in place since early February within the City of Hailey. During the May 10, 2021 city council meeting, Hailey officials made a motion to eliminate group size restrictions from its health order, and to require face coverings only in indoor public spaces, and to strongly recommend face coverings in settings where physical distancing can't be maintained. This new order went into effect on May 11, 2021, concurrently with the State of Idaho's move to Stay Health Order Stage 4, which permits gatherings of any size if people adhere to the physical distancing and sanitation requirements described in Section 4 of the State's Order, which is available here: <https://rebound.idaho.gov/wp-content/uploads/stage4-stay-healthy-guidelines-051121.pdf>

Hailey's Health Order 2021-03 continues to require face coverings be worn in any indoor public place when members of the public are physically present. While masking is no longer legally required in outdoor public places, it continues to be strongly recommended that people completely cover the nose and mouth when social distancing is not possible in any indoor or outdoor space.
